

Since 1997, Digital Hill Multimedia Inc. has provided businesses and organizations with comprehensive and leading edge website development and related services. We know that establishing a strong web presence is more important than ever for competing in today's fast changing business environment.

Common areas of assistance we offer are:

- Website development utilizing the latest and most advanced capabilities available
- Complete Product/Catalog Listing and full service e-commerce sites
- Customized web-based solutions for your business processes
- E-marketing services including online ad campaigns, e-newsletter blasts, e-surveys & more

Digital Hill's experience and expertise in online products and services means you're in good hands as we take you to new heights on the web. Our clients understand that working with Digital Hill is a collaborative process. As we get to know your business and needs, we can better offer the best unique solution for you.

Some specific solutions we offer and customize to meet your needs include:

Keeping in contact with your customers is essential to good business. DhEmail allows you to create and administer multiple newsletter groups with ease. The program allows users to subscribe and unsubscribe, empowering you to maintain contact, educated consumers, and even survey them.

A picture can be worth a thousand words. Display photos of recent activities, product details and more by uploading pictures off your own computer, and our program will automatically place them on your web site instantly. No need to worry about file size, our program automatically updates and optimizes each image!

DhCalendar makes updating events on your website a breeze. Add, update, and delete events through our easy-to-use administration area, and the changes will automatically be updated on your website immediately. You can list your tradeshow schedule, detail open-houses, etc. A great communication tool!

Digital Hill has partnered with MX logic, the industry leader in blocking spam. Spam is a problem for anyone with an e-mail address. More than 70% of all Internet e-mail is spam; and our spam blocker enables your company e-mail addresses to be protected. Easy to setup and easy to use, allow us to assist!

Digital Hill serves businesses and organizations with the following benefits:

- Our team of professionals has decades of experience in various fields of web development, programming, and e-marketing
- We're not satisfied until you're satisfied! We won't leave you after it's done, we're there with you long term
